

Cook your career

Thursday, 20 March 2014 (18:00 – 22:00h)

We meet in Lausanne and travel to a professional cooking studio.

Further details will be provided to selected participants.

What will life be like after your master's degree? Do you consider joining a Consulting firm and are you keen on getting more information about career opportunities within Deloitte?

Then take part in our exclusive cooking event and get to know our Consulting professionals who are happy to share their experience with you. While preparing dinner under the supervision of professional chefs, you will have the chance to learn more about the life of a consultant and get interesting insights into project work.

We are looking forward to your online application (including CV) on www.deloitte.com/careers.

The deadline for registration is 12 March 2014. There is only limited space available.
