

Could your next strategic move be in business technology?

HORIZON | 2015

McKinsey's international workshop for students who see technology as a business solution will take place on May 28-31, 2015, in Palma de Mallorca.

Meet fellow students from across Europe. Get to know McKinsey's Business Technology Office and the people who make it special. Find out more about McKinsey's perspectives on work, family, and life. Discover the career opportunities we offer and experience what life as a consultant is really like. For more information and to apply online by April 12, visit horizon.mckinsey.com
